On January 21st, 2013, Americans of all backgrounds will join together to celebrate the inauguration of President Barack H. Obama and Vice President Joseph R. Biden, Jr.

We understand that many of you will choose to celebrate at home in your communities, so we are pleased to once again offer innovative ways for you to participate alongside your fellow Americans, wherever you are.

Inauguration weekend will begin with a National Day of Service on Saturday, January 19th, 2013. To honor the legacy of Martin Luther King Jr., the President, Vice President and their families will participate in service projects in Washington DC, and they will be joined by Americans in communities across the country. Visit our National Day of Service page at www.2013pic.org to learn more about how you can sign up to participate.

Please note that this is a commemorative invitation, it is not an actual ticket. To find out more about how you can attend official Inaugural events, visit www.2013pic.org
